

---

Study in Czech (Bc., Mgr.)

---

Bachelor's study programs (three-years)

Bachelor studies at Faculty of Education are normally three-year programmes (internal or external), and may be self-contained degrees orientated to future employment, or taken as a first step towards a master's degree. Upon completion, students are awarded the academic title of Bachelor. The Faculty of Education offers several Bachelor of Education programs. A dominating feature of Bachelor studies is studying professional based subjects or two approbation subjects with a focus on general education. This study program is not designed for obtaining a teacher's qualification. The faculty of Education prepares Bachelor study programs for professionals in different disciplines who will assert themselves in educational institution, state administration, etc. It is expected that graduates of these subjects will continue in follow-up MA teacher-training programmes and that will gain the qualification of registered teacher.

Students can choose from broad areas full-time forms of studies: Special Education, Psychology and Special education, Teaching for Kindergartens, Mathematics focused on education, Art education focused on education, two subjects combination with focus on education: Languages, Music education, Playing instrument, Choir Conducting, Mathematics, Education, Arts, Basics of Social sciences, Information technologies, Biology, History, Chemistry, Sports education, Health condition, Special education, Technical and information, Historical music practice and Choir of church music. Students can also choose from broad areas part-time forms of studies.

Follow-up Master's study programs (two-years)

Master's degree programmes at Faculty of Education are designed to follow on from Bachelor's programmes. The standard length of a follow-on Master's degree programme is two years. Upon completion, students are awarded the academic title of Master. The dominating feature a follow-up Master's study program is studying educational-psychologic subjects and professional subject didactics or two approbation subjects with focus on general education. Graduates of the follow-up Master's degree program will be qualified as a teacher of general educational subjects at basic schools and high schools. Most of our programmes are available to study full time or part time.

Students can choose from broad areas full-time forms of studies: Special Education, Psychology, Teaching of social sciences, philosophy and ethics for high schools and tertiary schools, Languages, Music education, Playing instrument, Choir Conducting, Mathematics, Education, Arts, Basics of Social sciences, Information technologies, Biology, History, Chemistry, Sports education, Health education, Special education and Technical and information.

Master's study programs (five-years)

At Faculty of Education are Master's programmes which are self-contained and do not follow on from a Bachelor's programme - these last five years, and are known as "long-cycle" Master's programmes. The Faculty of Education offers five - years Teacher Education program: Teaching at primary level in basic schools with specialization: Foreign language, Arts, Sports or Drama education. Teacher Education program is available to study full time or part time forms of studies. The graduate will have acquired professional competence qualifying to teach at primary schools.