

Graduate has gained orientation in such fields of psychology, and pedagogy that are dealing with human development. Obtained knowledge and skills allowed him/her to be a qualified worker in the area of leisure time. Her/his activities would be oriented toward both curricular and extracurricular institutions, and in the fields of social care and social prevention.