

The graduate is in special education prepared to pursue a profession of project manager and teacher assistant at schools and other educational institution. Other possible worksites are institutions for addictions treatment, institutions for children and young people with risk behaviours, nongovernmental organisations.

Inclusive and special education are focused on education of persons with different kinds of health disabilities, health disadvantages and social disadvantages in accordance with actual trends in education of persons with special needs. Specialization is targeted at activation of those persons during their education at primary and secondary schools and support of their skills and competences development.