

The completion of MA degree in Music Education insures extensive musical knowledge and music educational skills. Graduates are able to apply it in the means of current innovative trends. They are fully qualified to teach music courses at all levels from elementary to high schools (in the latter category, this includes specialized education schools and lyceums) and music ground and high schools as well.