

The graduate is qualified to teach French language, literature and civilization at the second level of primary school and at all levels of high school. The graduate have theoretical knowledge of diachronic and synchronic French linguistics, literature and didactics. The graduate has all the qualifications needed to pursue further his scientific skills.

Master studies at the Departement of French Language and Literature follows the BA studies by deepening the knowledge acquired in the BA studies and giving the necessary competence for a pedagogical qualification. Those broader and deeper studies intends to reach a higher specialization, which is demonstrated in the Master thesis and can lead to Doctoral studies.